Nevada State Journal

TUESDAY, JULY 30, 1901.

OUR CANDIDATE.

There is a good deal being said about the identity of the United Senator from Nevada to be elected by the legislature two years hence, and but little or nothing of the qualifications of the persons named or what is expected of the one elected. The JOURNAL's candidate, whoever he may be, must possess the following qualifications:

He must be a bona fide resident of Nevada.

The State must possess for him sufficient attractions to induce him to reside here more of his time than is necessary to patch up his political fences once in six years.

He must convince us that he will represent the people of Nevada instead of those of trusts or corporations either at the Eastern or Western side of the continent.

He must be a stanuch bimetallist, ready and willing upon all proper occasions to advocate that principle, and to endeavor to advance the cause in matters both great and small, whenever there is an opportunity to do so.

He must be well informed upon the subject of irrigation and must use his knowledge and influence to obtain governmental aid for the storage of water in Nevada and other arid land sections of the country.

He must disfavor a trust tariff schedule which obliges the people of Nevada to pay additional prices for the necessaries of life to an amount more than three times that of the expense of running the State government.

He must be an enemy of imperialism and a believer and supporter of the doctrine that a good form of government can only be secured by the consent of the people to be governed.

He must believe, and act upon such belief, that the federal constitution prevails wherever the American flag holds dominion, and as long as it floats over any territory claimed or possessed by these United States of America.

He must be a sympathizer with all liberty loving people abroad as well as at home, and must be ready and willing at all times to manifest such sympathy from his seat in the Senate whenever the matter is properly brought before that body.

He must be an honest man who pays the legitimate debts which incurs, and does not cheat printers and musical bands out of their pittances while expending thousands upon thousands of dollars in the purchase of votes of corrupt legislators.

In short, he must be the antipodes of the last United States Senator elected from this State, and as unlike him as chalk is from cheese or a Saint from Beelzebub.

A VETERAN RETIRED.

Stephen T. Gage has personally confirmed the report that he will be relieved of his duties in connection with the Southern Pacific Company, which wil cease with the end of the present month. Mr. Gage's host of friends in Nevada will be gratified to learn that the gentleman is to be retired upon a handsome salary, the same as that given to Mr. Fillmore, which is $1000 per month during the present year and $500 per month during the remainder of his life. The Truckee Republican says in this connection: "It is understood at the time the change in the ownership of the controlling interest in the stock of the Southern Pacific Company took place it was agreed that several of the older servants of the company who have been faithful for many years and had contributed largely to the success of the corporation, should be treated handsomely and that they be retired on salaries which would practically be pensions. Mr. Gage is one of the veterans included in this arrangement'

Certainly no attache of the company is better entitled to kindly consideration by the new management than Steve Gage. He was connected with the road before tue last spike was driven, and was for years the confidential friend and adviser of President Leland Stanford, who held him in the highest esteem, and who sought his counsel upon all important matters pertaining to the interest of the corporation, the wisdom of which counsel was manifested by the successful management of the road during the time of Senator Stanford's control. Mr. Gage was one of the pioneer mercantile men of Virginia City, where he lived for a number of years before his connection with the Southern Pacific. He was the company's representative at Carson during many sessions of the legislature, but the term "lobbyist" could not truthfully be applied to him in an offensive sense. While keeping a keen eye upon the interests of his company, he never meddled with other legislation and his methods were always open, straight-forward and honorable. He commanded the respect of legislators opposed to him in railroad matters, and such opposition never interfered with his social or friendly relations with them. The JOURNAL is sincerely pleased that his services have been recognized and appreciated, and hopes that he will live long to enjoy the provision made for his declining years.

DEMANDS AN INVESTIGATION.

Admiral Schley has been driven to the necessity of requesting the appointment of a court of inquiry to investigate his conduct during the naval campaign against Spain in Cuban waters. This is the outcome of the Sampson-Schley controversy immediately provoked by the scurrilous and partisan history published in the interest of the commander who was more than "twenty miles away" when the heroic deed which demolished the last vestige of Spanish rule in Cuba was accomplished. If Admiral Schley is guilty of the charges made by his enemies, the American people have been worse deceived in him than any man whoever wore the uniform of the United States army or navy. If cowardice and falsehood are accompaniments to such glorious results as were achieved by the fleet under the temporary command of Commodore Schley, then bravery and truthfulness are not essential requirements in military and naval leaders, and the fate of battles rests with luck, chance, Providence or anything except the courage coolness, skill and judgment of the man or men who direct the movements of the vessels or army in the fray. Is it a popular delusion that courage in the commanding officer is as essential to success as is that quality in the body of men under him, and whose every movement he directs and controls? If it is a delusion, then the greatest craven that ever disgraced the uniform he wore could have accomplished the Dewey achievement on that ever glorious May morning in the harbor of Manila.

Admiral Schley has pursued the right course in demanding an investigation. It is conclusive evidence that he does not fear publicity of all of the facts, which will most certainly be developed, before the tribunal to which he appeals. Secretary Long has granted the Admiral's request and it is certain that a thorough investigation will be had, and with the almost as likely termination in his complete vindication and the discomfiture of his enemies, and the branding of the Maclay history as a falsifying record of the events of the Spanish war.

TRIED TO ESCAPE

Talesmen Who Didn't Want to Serve Their Country at $2 per Day.

The Reno contingency had more troubles yesterday than could be told to a policemen. A big bunch of Riversiders had been summoned to serve on the United States trial judy. Among them were W. L. Bechtel, I. N. Bakeless, A. G. Fletcher, S. R. Crockett, W. A. Martin, H. L. Field, Harry Brown, Chas. Higley, A. C. Hash, Harry Sellers and Chas. Harley.

Divers methods were tried by some of these gentlemen to escape jury duty.

One man was so violently ill that he had been able to work only ten hours a day for the past year. Bechtel wanted off because he was secretary for the Reno Water, Land and Light Company and had no one to leave in his place. Hash thought he ought to be excused because he had twenty-eight men working for him. Judge Hawley scrutinized both of these gentlemen over his spectacles and solemnly remarked. "If I excused either of these jurors I would be compelled to do the same by the other. One appears to have too many men working for him and the other not enough."

Mr. Field pleaded the age limit. He said that he was 63 years old. His Honor would not allow the claim as the limit made by the law is 65 years. However he congratulated the juror on being still on the right side of three score and five.

S. R. Crockett intended to ask for release on the grounds that his absence would break up the perennial solo game at Thyes, but when he heard how the other excuses fell shy he did not plead to be excused.

Poor Henry Brown! He made a bet before the train left Reno that the Judge would not hold him and when his name was called he displayed his star and stated that he was chief of police. The Judge called for the statutes and after carefully scaning the list of ineligibles, said that being chief of police was not among them. His Honor asked Mr. Brown if the morals of Reno had not sufficiently improved since he took his oath of office that he could absent himself for a few days without subjecting the community to serious danger.

One or two of the talesmen were released and the balance adjourned and held indignation meetings in the corridors of the Arlington Hotel and the Briggs House.

IN THE UNITED STATES COURT

The United States Court was in session yesterday and promises to continue doing business for days to come. There are people from half the counties in the State charged with a variety of crimes against the Federal Government, the most common of which is selling liquor to Indians.

One of these latter is a wealthy merchant of Elko, while the majority of lower social standing.

Today an opium selling case comes up that will be bitterly and stubbornly fought. The defendant is Yo Quong of Reno. He will be defended at the expense of the Chinese Six Companies.

There were four arraignments yesterday, all on th charge of selling whisky to Indians. Thirteen indictments have ben found against persons who have not yet been brought into court by the marshal.

J. E. Pamplin has returned to Reno after organizing a branch of the Western Savings and Loan Society.

Manager Brown of the Western Union Telegraph Company was over from Reno yesterday.

Senator Summerfield is prosecuting cases in the United States Court.

Mr. Summerfield, a Los Angeles attorney, is spending a few days in Carson on pleasure.

UNSURPASSED PRODUCT.

The Virginia and Truckee Company is building a storage house for the products of the Douglas County Creamery, where the butter can be kept in a cool place until loaded on the cars. There is an ever increasing supply of dairy products arriving from Carson valley for shipment.

Douglas county butter now commands the highest price on the market in San Francisco.

MAY RECEIVE REWARDS.

James Yerington of this city, Nevada's Commissioner to the Pan-American Exposition, writes his father that this State is probably to receive several awards for its mineral exhibition. He says that the judges spent considerable time inspecting Nevada's interesting display.

A PLACE OF REST.

Since the hot season set in the Capitol park has become a frequented spot. There are no "Keep off the Grass" signs to worry the tired and super-heated Carsonite. He is at perfect liberty—and takes advantage of it—to lie on the grass under the wide spreading shade trees in "otium cum dignitate."

IN SCENIC NEVADA

A Ride Through a Picturesque Portion of the Sagebrush State.

The tourist who crosses Nevada on the main line of railroad and takes no side jaunts north and south, leaves the State with a rather poor opinion of its picturesqueness and fertility.

The ride of thirty miles from Reno to Carson discloses a panorama of beauty. To the westward are the high Sierras capped with everlasting snows. Mighty forests extend down to the lowlands and giant crags uplift their mighty arms into the skies. There is a breath of air wafted down from the heights, ozoned by the snow and perfumed by the pines, and is exhilirating and health-giving.

To the eastward are lower hills, gaunt and desolate, yet ribbed and veined with mineral that some day will help enrich the world. These hills are not unpicturesque. They have a wild and quaint beauty. The sun at its various altitudes paints and repaints them in every hue from gray to pink. The slowly changing colors make a pleasing study when gazed upon by an artist's eye and even the unprofessional looks upon them with pleasure from the car window and finds physical and mental repose in the subdued lights and waving outlines.

A nearer view on either side is of waving grain and green alfalfa fields. Willow bordered streams meander across the landscape and at the base of the mountains are grove-encircled homes of plenty.

◆

BREVITIES.

There is more activity in the V. & T. shops at present than for a number of years past.

Superintendent of Construction Davies of the W. U. Tel. Co. is spending today in town inspecting the system.

The State printing office is employing eight men. Mr. Maute says it will require at least four weks to clean up the work on hand.

Considerable prospecting is being done around Carson. The shareholders in the Gardner mine are pleased, with the showing being made there.

Carson is neither dead nor sleeping. Considerable activity prevails along the line of improvements. Carpenters and painters are steadily employed.

PREPARING FOR THE FAIR

It Will Be One of the Hottest Events on the Coast.

Active preparations are now in progress for the next State fair and all indications are for an interesting and largely attended meet.

Secretary Bevier received a letter Sunday notifying him that J. M. Boothe is getting a stable ready in Salt Lake to bring to Reno.

The lawn that has been started in front of the grand stand adds to the appearance of the grounds.

This week Caine & Schadler will begin the erection of a handsome gate at the main entrance. It will be surmounted by an arch. The old fencing at that point will be torn down and replaced.

The streets leading to the fair grounds are in bad shape and should be repaired before the rains begin.

The pavilion is nearly completed. It will be equipped with a ladies' lavatory and a lady attendant will be in charge. A porch is being built along the front and east end of the pavilion, where it will be shady during the afternoon races. Refreshments will be served there.

A special effort will be made to have a splendid exhibition of the products of the State, especially in the mining line. No admission will be charged to the pavilion.

◆

PLUMAS COUNTY EXCURSION

The N-C-O. Railway excursion to Clairville, Sunday last was a very successful one, and the railway company has received several requests to run another excursion on Sunday, August 4th.

The request will be complied with, and the N-C-O. Railway will run another excursion next Sunday, August 4th, stopping the train two miles east of Clairville, adjacent to the Feather River, in the midst of the magnificent pine woods which are a source of much delight to excursionists. Further particulars regarding the excursion, next Sunday, may be looked for in this paper tomorrow.

A NEW CAMP NEAR RENO

Rich Silver and Gold Ore Struck Seven Miles From This City.

A new mining camp is springing up near Reno without any apparent desire to advertise itself. Hitherto little has been said of the camp and nothing published in the papers regarding it.

Its location is in the red hills seven miles southeast of this city. There is an apparently inexhaustible quantity of mineralized material, carying from a dollar or two to $60 a ton.

The formation is a peculiar composite mass resembling volcanic ash and clay. It is probably a soft porphyry or decomposed feldsite. The values lie in greenish yellow chloride streaks similar in appearance to the Bonanza ores of Wedekind City, though lighter in weight. The chief difference is that the ores in the new camp carry free gold, while in the Reno Star they do not. The silver values also occur in gray chlorides, or horn silver.

The formation runs parallel to the strike of the range and is cut in three gulches. In each of these are locations and men at work in them. About fifteen miners are already employed.

John Newmarker has the deepest workings. He is down about 90 feet. C. P. Cross and Chas. Prime have the best looking claims. They have ten feet of ore that would all pay if it could be worked on the ground.

They are sorting down to $40 rock and will shortly make a shipment to Selby's. A few hundred pounds of their ore is being run at the Nevada Reduction Works for a test. It is being crushed and then roasted and cyanided.

Some of the other locators are Kleppe & Miller, the Wedekinds, Dr. Redman and C. Richardson.

ITEM ABOUT OIL.

Mr. W. H. Sheets of Stockton, Cal., representing the Miocine Oil Company, is in Reno. This company which has its headquarters in Stockton owns a large tract of oil land in Fresno county in California, and also a tract in the vicinity of Elko in this State where considerable prospecting for oil is going on with favorable prospects for success.

GOOD ORE AT LAST CHANCE

Superintendent Murdock Talks About This Promising Mine.

A. E. Murdock is in from Last Chance. He reports that eight men are now at work in this mine in two shifts.

The incline is down 150 feet on dip of ledge to a point about 75 feet from the surface. There is seven feet of ore in sight, carrying gold, silver, copper and lead to the value of about $40 to $103 per ton.

A meeting of the directors of the Last Chance Gold and Silver Mining Company will be held in this city tonight when the proposition to erect a smelter will be considered.

The stockholders are practically all Reno people and they are confident that they have a mine that will enrich them. The company has purchased 200 acres of timber and secured water for mining and milling purposes.

The mine is located within 6 miles of the main line of the N-C-O. and 7 miles from the Sierra Valley branch, connected with both lines by good roads.

METEOROLOGICAL CONDITIONS.

Last night was the hottest of the season. At 10 o'clock the thermometer registered 80 degrees. The barometric readings evidenced an indication toward storminess. The weather bureau prophesied rain for today but at midnight there were no indications of other than clear, hot weather. It is probable that thunder storms will soon begin to put in an appearance.

WHITE MAN TURNED YELLOW.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when thew saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50 cents. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

ROY SUNDERLAND ON THE ROAD TO WEALTH

Paralyzing Tales of Sudden Riches Are Coming From the New Nevada Bonanza.

Henry Cutting of this city and T. L. Oddie, treasurer of the Tonopah Mining Company, arrived in Reno Sunday evening after a record-breaking trip from Butler City. They drove all night to Sodaville, where a special train was waiting to whisk them up to Hawthorne. They came the balance of the way by regular trains and left at midnight for San Francisco, where most important business awaits them.

Henry is getting fat on his prosperity. He was tempting fate and was making a cast of the dice that would have ruined him if he had lost when he struck Tonopah. Now, in a few brief months, he has become worth any old kind of money and is pressing his good luck. He and his partners will soon have the first fire-proof building in the camp. They have rushed up a frame building and are building masonry around it. Cutting is taking out slathers of ore worth hundreds of dollars a ton.

Mr. Oddie was one of the locators of Tonopah. When he and had his associates sold out he purchased a block of stock in the new company and has been elected treasurer.

The most sensational strike in the camp is credited to Roy Sunderland and his partners. They have encountered a ledge of fabulous richness. It ran several hundred dollars a ton when they struck it at a depth of 115 feet. It is over two feet wide. The lead samples across to the enormous value of 78 ounces of gold and 1400 ounces of silver. It is a bona fide $2000 a ton proposition. The lucky owners are cleaning up a thousand dollars a day apiece and are not crowding the limit either. The beauty of this proposition is that the claim is owned by them and is not a short term lease as are most of the others.

When Roy drops into Reno next he will have a sack with him.

Mr. Oddie told a Journal reporter that, at the least calculation there is $150,000 worth of ore sacked ahead of the teams. It is piling up many times faster than it can be hauled to the railroad. The lease owners are willing to contract for teams at the rate of $15 a ton both ways. This looks good for a sixty mile haul over a good road with springs not over twenty miles apart.

Building operations are held back by lack of material. A load of lumber never hits the ground. As soon as a lumber team rolls into camp the stuff is snapped up and the carpenters are working it up within an hour after it arrives.

Lack of transportation likewise prevents the introduction of town luxuries into the camp. Wealthy leasers are still sleeping on planks and living in tents, while their table fare is what they can get.

Messrs. Cutting and Oddie warn miners to stay away for a while longer. There has been a great influx of working men. This is the only line in which Tonopah is overdone. They both prophesy five thousand people for the camp within a few months and believe that it is destined to be a Virginia City within a year of two.

MEDICOS' MEETING

The Physicians of Reno Form a Permanent Organization.

A meeting of the Washoe County Medical association was held last evening in the office of Dr. Thoma. There was a large attendance.

Permanent organization was effected by choosing the following officers: H. H. Hogan, president; G. H. Thoma, vice-president; S. E. D. Pinniger, secretary; George Fee, treasurer.

The proposed fee bill was adopted. There is quite a range between the lowest and highest fee for each variety of professional duty and there will be little or no change from charges previously made.

It was decided to hold meetings monthly. The program for the next meeting be: Paper by Dr. Hogan; microscopic demonstration by Drs. Lee, Gibson and Pinniger.

CURRIE HAS PAY ROCK

Hundred Dollar Ore Found Only Three Miles North of Reno.

Several days ago it was reported that Steve Currie had struck pay ore in a prospect hole he has been sinking three miles north of town. Yesterday the news was confirmed beyond a doubt. A number of samples of the ore have been brought to town. It is a quartz formation carrying large quantities of red and yellow oxides of iron. It is true quartz and is of a grayish cast.

An assay was made yesterday which showed the rock—said to be an average sample—to contain $108 in gold and $5.74 in silver, besides traces of lead and copper.

The original location was made by Steve Currie.

Extensions have ben taken up by A. B. Undike and Chas. M. Lake. It is said that rich float can be traced for quite a distance. It is not yet known how extensive the ore body is. Development work will be vigorously prosecuted.

GIVEN A CHANCE.

Lieutenant Gignoux, who recently passed the mental examination for promotion to captaincy in the regular army, failed in the physical examination. Owing to his splendid war record, he has been given six months in which to recuperate.

ENCOURAGING ASSAYS.

Contractor L. F. Stallings has reached a depth of 116 feet in the Reno Chance mine. Assays on the bottom yield from $5 to $10. The stockholders will sink deeper as the formation is steadily improving in appearances.

RIVER BOATS IN RUSSIA.

Nearly Every Known Means of Locomotion Is in Use.

Everywhere up the Volga and its hundred tributaries ascend the iron barges of the Caspian sea oil fleet, while through the canals to St. Petersburg alone pass annually during the 215 days of free navigation thousands of steamers and barges bearing millions of tons of freight. Every known means of locomotion is used, from men who, like oxen, tramp the towpaths, hauling the smaller barges, to powerful tugs that creep along by means of an endless chain laid in the bed, of the canals and minor rivers, dragging after them at snail pace great caravans of heavy barges.

From the greater streams immense craft nearly 400 feet long, 15 feet in depth, carrying 6,000 tons of freight, drift down to the Caspian, where they are broken to pieces to be used as firewood on the steamers going up stream. In all there are 8,000 miles of navigable waterways in the valley of the Volga, or if the streams which float the giant rafts that form so large a part of the traffic of the rivers are included the mileage is increased to nearly 15,000, or as much as that of the valley of the Mississippi.

Fifty thousand rafts are floated down the Volga annually, many of them 160 feet long by 7 thick, and this gives but a faint idea of the real traffic of the river, for in addition there are 10,000,000 tons of produce passing up and down the river during the open season. Much of this centers at Nijni Novgorod. To this famous market steamers and barges come from all parts of Russia, bringing goods to be sold at the great annual fair, over $200,000,000 worth of merchandise changing hands in a few weeks. Thirty thousand craft, including rafts, are required for this traffic. They come from as far north as Archangel, as far east as the Urals, from Astrakhan in the south, St. Petersburg and Moscow to the west, while great caravans of ships of the desert arrive daily from all parts of Asia.—Engineering Magazine.

Didn't Cut His Corners.

A writer in the Boston Transcript gives this reminiscence of the Rev. Dr. Elijah Kellogg of Harpswell, Me.: "One Sunday before his sermon the doctor announced from his pulpit: 'The widow Jones' grass is getting pretty long. I shall be there with my scythe, rake and pitchfork at 4 o'clock tomorrow morning, and I hope every male member of the congregation will be there too.'

"The next morning they were all there and among them Captain Griggs, six feet two in his stockings, with a weight of nearly 250 pounds. 'Parson,' said he as they were working up the field near each other, 'I'm goin to cut your corners this mornin.'

"Now, Dr. Kellogg was a little man, weighing scarcely more than 130 pounds, but he knew how to handle a scythe, and, as he told me, with a little shrug of his shoulders, 'he didn't cut my corners that morning.' More than that, the man who had thought he could beat the parson at mowing dropped under a tree exhausted from working with such a pacemaker."

The Worst Paved City.

Moscow is probably the worst paved city in the world. Great cobblestones driven by hand into a loose bed of sand form a roadway which is always dusty in summer and muddy in autumn, and in many of the roads there is no attempt at a roadway of any kind. The streets are badly watered and cleaned.

The city is regarded by the Russians as "the holy city," probably because of the large number of monasteries it contains. It was once the capital of the empire and still enjoys the distinction of being considered the capital of the interior, but there does not seem to be any particular desire on the part of the authorities to make it more worthy of its title.
